

Message to the Participants of the Ius Commune Conference

Dear Friends of Ius Commune,

We have the pleasure of hereby informing you regarding the Ius Commune Conference this week. As you probably will have heard, many parts of Europe (among which Belgium) are currently in risk of violence. We would like to emphasize that the conference will indeed take place on Thursday and Friday. The security risk in Brussels has been increased over the last days, but that is not the case in the rest of Belgium. Moreover, all KU Leuven activities will proceed as planned, although we are of course closely monitoring the situation.

As of this time, train traffic in Brussels is occurring normally.
